SOUNDLY THRASHED. A Jealous Woman Lashes One of Her

Own Sex. NEW YORK, May 19th .- At Camden, N J., on Saturday evening Mrs. Annie E. Reed was lashed till almost dead with a blacksnake whip by Miss Cora Walls, sister of the man whom Mrs. Reed enticed away from his wife and children. Miss Walls met Mrs. Reed on the street. The former was followed by two young men, the latter having the arm of a middle-aged man. As soon as they met Miss Walls pulled out a whip. "You will rob my brother's children of their bread?" she cried; and the whip fell upon the woman's shoulders.
"Take that, and that, and that!" she repeated; and each time the blacksnake wound about Mrs. Reed's face and should-

The man whom Mrs. Reed accompanied appeared to make no effort to shield her, and the little woman was left to fight her own battle. She did not fight, but randown the street. Miss Walls was close beaind. She caught Mrs. Reed, and again the merciless lash was wrapped around her face and shoulders.

Mrs. Reed's cries for help were heard around the neighborhood. Her clothes were torn from the waist down by the lash, and big welts swelled upon her face and neck. Several people tried to interfere, but, as they did so, the two men who ac-companied Miss Walls, and who had followed her closely, stepped up. They drew revolvers and exclaimed, "A hole will be put through the first man who interferes. This woman deserves all she gets."

Mrs. Reed escaped again and ran. She was overtaken, and as she scrambled up the steps of the house her torn skirts were seized by Miss Walls, who held her and again applied the lash with vigor. The victim then got away. Mrs. Reed is badly hurt and is suffering great agony, being neither able to lie or sit down. Large welts mark her face, shoulders and other parts of her body.

It is understood that no prosecution will be made. Mr. Walls disappeared when the horsewhipping began and no one has seen him since. He has been giving all bis money to Mrs. Reed, and his wife and three babies have been actually starving.

DANGLING CORPSE. The Dead Body of a Suicide Tapping at the Door. PITTSBURG (Pa.), May 19th.-Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock J. W. Waggoner, guest at Beley's Hotel, was awakened by something like a tapping at his window He got up in bed and peered out into the night, and was thrilled by horror to see the white face of a corpse. The body was hanging by a chain around its neck from a window on the floor above, and the wind in swaying it about caused the noise that awakened Waggoner. The eyes of the corpse were wide open and the hands were clasped together. As soon as Waggoner recovered from the shock he alarmed the household. The body proved to be that of John Smith, an oil driller. He had gone to his room about midnight, taken the chain used as a fire escape, wrapped it twice around his neck and swung out of the window, where he ung until he was strangled to death. Several years ago Smith lived in Ebensburg. A murder was committed there in which he was implicated with a man named Bowles and another called Brooks. Bowles fled and Brooks was killed. Then mith turned State's evidence and got lear, but he was from that time on known in the oil country as Murderer John Smith. To be called by this name preyed upon his mind and led to his suicide The Waiters Strike, Too. CHICAGO, May 19th —The culinary alli-ance has at last put all its forces forward in an endeavor to tie up every hotel and restaurant in this city. To day the fight began in earnest, and probably 300 waiters are now out on a strike and will remain so unil the proprietors recognize their union The principal hotels affected are the Palmer House, where over a hundred men are out, the Tremont with a like number, and everal large restaurants are running with only half forces. The Alliance and propri-etors are in for a long struggle. Already steps are being taken to fill the strikers' places by men from the East, where several hotel proprietors have been for the past week with this object in view.

Indian Territory. GUTHRIE (Ind. Ter.), May 19th .- A special courier from Kiowa village says: The ndian Commission was found wandering about aimlessly in dense forests and twenty five miles out of the way, and was piloted to this place this morning and neotiations reopened. The outlook is favorable for the opening of the reservation soon, and the Indians have already selected their allotments. They are stubborn about terms, but a few days will set le the matter. Another rush of settlers to this country is probable. The Indians at present are holding a medicine dance, thus ropitiating the Great Spirit. The Comission is feasting them on cows.

CHICAGO, May 19th.—President Manvil of the Atchison to-day officially accepted the resignation of Vice-President Goddard. The resignation takes effect on June 1st.
Rumor began to locate Mr. Goddard as General Manager or Second Vice-President of the Burlington, but nothing could be learned definitely. Mr. Goddard refuses to talk on the subject, and the Burlington people in this city profess ignorance of who will fill the vacant offices permanently. No steps have been taken by the Atchison to find a successor for Goddard, nor does there seem at present any available timber.

He Knew It All. New York, May 19th .- The Evening Post says: A Wall-street man, who thinks he knows all about the matter, says the North-ern Pacific has already made arrangements with the Pacific Mail by which Tacoma will be the terminal point for Pacific Mail steamers, the Northern Pacific people having agreed to pay an amount equal to the existing subsidy. If the Huntington people want a Pacific Mail connection they will be given it at San Francisco on similar terms. A meeting of the Directors of Pa-cific Mail will probably be held Wednes-day, at which Huntington expects to give

New York, May 19th.—A large block of the Commercial Cable Company's stock has been sold to a London syndicate composed of parties interested in the Canadian Pacific Railway. St. Louis, May 19th.—The Methodist Conference this morning elected Rev. A. G. Haygood of Sheffield, Kan., as one of the two Bishops to be chosen. Dr. O. P. Senator Sabin. Madison (Wis.), May 19th.—Action was brought here to day by the St. Croix Land and Lumber Company against Senator Sabin of Minneapolis, together with the Wisconsin Iron Company, to secure title to tracts of mining lands valued at $1,500,000. The plaintiff alleges the transfer to the defendants was fraudulent. Villard's Denial.

New York, May 19th.—Henry Villard denies that he is co-operating with Huntington to secure a controlling interest in Pacific Mail. Villard does not own a share in Pacific Mail, and does not intend to buy any. He has not seen Huntington for several months, and had no communication with him on the subject of Pacific Mail.

BILLY AND MAUD. lennessy and Silverstein Jailed

Charges of Robbery. It seems impossible for Maud Silverstein the notorious panel operator, to keep out of trouble. She has the reputation of being an incorrigible thief, drunken men being her usual game, while no man, drunk or sober, is considered safe when in her clutches. She left here a couple of months ago with Billy Hennessy, the prize fighter, just after that gentleman had concluded his political labors at the city election, and they drove their stakes in the city by the sea. There they have both got into trouble, which the Alta thus explains:

"Maud Silverstein and William Hennessy, the prize fighter, are under arrest, charged with grand larceny. Harry Tietjen is the complainant. He states that a week or so ago he was in one of the boxes of a dive on Kearny street with the Silver-stein woman, when she robbed him of $75. He attempted to hold the woman, who called to her pugilistic lover for help. "Hennessy rushed to the rescue of his mistress, and dealt Tietjen a knock-out blow. The woman escaped, and the pair kept out of sight for a week. They were arrested by officers Burnett and Linsky. The Silverstein woman has been arrested

Washington, May 19th.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day rendered an opinion of vital interest to the Mormon Church in the suit of the Church of the Latter Day Saints against the United States, which comes here on appeal from a decision of the Supreme Court of Utah in favor of the United States. This Court

Lindley, C. H. Cummings, S. Tryon, City affirms that judgment. The case grows out of the Edmund

inti-polygamy law, which dissolved the Mormon Church corporation and escheated to the United States the real estate owned by the church. The Mormons entered suit to have the law declared unconstitutional, on the ground that Congress assumed judicial powers, that the Act of the Legislative As-sembly of Utah incorporating the church constituted a contract which could not be impaired by Congress under its authority to repeal Territorial enactments, and that the doctrine of escheat was alien to the spirit of tree institutions.

On the part of the United States it was contended that Congress had the authority to repeal all Territorial enactments; that the Act incorporating the church was as invalid as any attempt to establish a religion contrary to the provisions of the Constitution; that the charter should be and that when the church corporation dissolved there was no one to whom to turn over the property and it was properly escheated to the United States. Justice Bradley delivered the opinion Chief Justice Fuller said he and Justices Field and Lamar were constrained to dissent. Congress unquestionably has power to suppress polygamy and it is immaterial whether the crime was committed in the name of religion. But Congress has not the power to seize and confiscate the property of corporations because they may of Decoration. WASHINGTON, May 19th .- In the House last Saturday, during the debate on the tariff bill, Bayne read a letter from James E. Campbell of Pittsburg, who had been denounced by Bynum, McMullin, Wilson of West Virginia and others as a falsifier and perjurer, in which Campbell charged Bynum with having said: "Fifteen dollars is enough for any workingman," and calling Bynum and Wilson "dishonorable

The reading caused an acrimonious de bate, and bitter words passed between Bynum and Bayne. Chairman Grosvenor was unable to keep the House in order, the confusion was so great, and the Committee of the Whole rose after Bynum's lan-guage was recorded and the Chairman reported to the House. Cutcheon then moved that Bynum be called before the floor of the House, and after Cutcheon's resolution was widely discussed his motion was carried by a party vote, except McKenna of California, who voted with the Democrats. Bynum was then escorted to the bar of the House, followed by all the Democratic representatives, who refused to be seated while Bynum was being censured, claiming that his cause was that of the party. Speaker Reed onounced the House's censure, to which Bynum responded that he considered it under the circumstances, a badge of dec oration. The House then adjourned.

IN THE SENATE.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, May 19th.—In the Senate to-day Stewart presented a memorial for the United Lead Association of Nevada, protesting against the tree importation of lead ores.

The naval appropriation bill was reported back from the committee. The bill contains but few amendments, and increases the total amount about $500,000. The appropriation for the increase of the navy is placed at $8,120,000, being an addition of $475,000 over the House bill. In addition to the new vessels authorized by the House the Senate committee adds one swift torpedo cruiser of 750 tons displacement, with a speed of twenty-three knots an hour, and to cost $350,000, and one torpedo-boat to cost $125,000. The other amendments are as follows: For completing the sectional dry dock at Mare Island, $50,170 (being an increase of $20,170 over the House bill); to establish an Assistant Quartermaster's office at San Francisco with one clerk, $1,400; for rent of buildings to be used for manufactured clothing, and for Assistant Quartermasters' offices at Philadelphia and San Francisco, $1,780.

At 12:40 Jones' silver bill came up as unfinished business, and Dolph took the floor for a set speech on it.

Dolph spoke until 4 o'clock. He was of the set speech on it.

Washington, May 19th.—In the House this morning much interest was manifested, and the galleries were crowded, as it was understood Wilson of West Virginia would reply to Campbell's letters introduced Saturday by Bayne.

(hairman Grosvenor said the gal eries would be cleared unless the occupants refrained from demonstrations. demonstrations.

Wilson took the floor and denied the veracity of Campbeil's statement that he (Wilson) had said $15 was enough for any workingman.

Bayne said he had no doubt that Campbell believed he was correct in his statements about Bynum and Wilson. He (Bayne) had great respect for Wilson.

Wilson then said he was content with the statement, and hoped the matter would end here.

Funston of Kansas offered an amendment striking out the duty on mixed ores, and it was debated one hour and a half.
Carter of Montana said: "Every smelter in the country stands by the committee on this bill imposing a duty of from 2½ to 6 cents per pound on mixed ores. More than two-thirds of the lead produ t comes from Spain, Germany and Austria. We can produce in this country all the fluxing ores we need and enough to supply all the smelters in christendom. It is not ply all the smelters in christendom. It is not fair to protect the white-lead trust and not protect the men on the mountain side, who are trying to hew out a home and fortune."

The vote on the amendment stood: Ayes 110, noes 133. Biggs voted with the Democrats, Clunie with the Republicans. Butterworth and half a dozen other Republicans voted with the Democrats.

Hopkins offered an amendment imposing a duty of 1½ cents per pound on mixed ores—a reduction of 1 cent. This was defeated—ayes All the amendments changing the duty on lead ores were voted down. The bill stands as reported from the committee in this respect.

BOND ELECTION.

Brune, Richard Irvine, Dr. G. M. Dixon, Thomas Hook, Dr. W. A. Briggs, Dr. Parkinson, Dr. G. L. Simmons and some twenty others President Luhrs explained the object of the meeting to be to devise methods for aiding in securing the success of the coming bond election. He spoke of the gen-eral desire of the public to have the city pay a portion of the expense of improving

he streets. Mr. Carrington favored a house-to house canvass, by dividing the city into districts and assigning committees to perform the work. He believed the success of the election would insure prosperity and give work to a large number of men. Undoubtedly most of the people are in favor of the plan, but some may need education on the subannulled for the abuse of granted rights, ject. If the streets were improved and the city benefited, there would be 50,000 population here within five years.

J. W. Wilson said the proposition was a grand one, and hoped it would be carried. He had not found a man opposed to it, but had heard of one man. He could not believe the proposition was in the least danger, as it was so full of promise to the city.

Mr. Grunsky introduced the following resolution, which was adopted : Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the call for an election to vote $100,000 of bonds should clearly and unequivocally set forth that the fund created by the sale of said bonds, when issued, shall be used only for the purpose of paying one-tourth of the cost of permanent street improvements.

Mr. Lindley explained his understanding of the provisions of the law authorizing the Trustees to pay a portion of the cost of street improvements. The proposed tax est impressiveness. was expected to cover a period of about The descent from the cross, after Durer, four years in defraying the city's portion of was one of the best artistic groupings in street improvements. It was in the nature of a contribution by property-owners to the grave, Christ being in white silk. The aid in improving the city. Much of the property is owned by non-residents, and this plan would compel that class and the down-town merchants to pay their share of the cost of improving the streets.

J. O. Coleman suggested that perhaps it would be a good idea to enlist the support of the ladies, as he had at last come to realize the power of woman's influence Mr. Black wants it understood that all streets be treated alike, and not one favored more than another.
Mr. Sanborn, President of the Council of Federated Trades, said he was certain that the smaller property-owners and laboring men would be found to favor the tax. Opposition to such things usually came from the more wealthy class. If the city will meet the cost of the intersections, he believed the property-owners would be willing to improve the streets. Sacramento possessed unusual advantages as a business center, and is to-day the best in Northern California. He felt safe in saying that the working classes would stand in and support

Mr. Lindley proposed a holiday on the day of election, which was opposed by Messrs. Coleman and Alsip. Mr. Alsip said he had known of but one rominent man who did not favor the tax. He believed the unanimity with which the people would support it would surprise the public. He had been informed by the agent of a rich English insurance company in San Francisco that the latter believed his company would like to take all the bonds at par that the city would let them

Mr. Lubin also opposed a holiday, which meant a general exodus to the country. Mr. Hague spoke of what energy and public spirit had done in Fresno, and said that Sacramentans must do something to invite new-comers. If this election should be carried it would mean the turning point in the history of Sacramento. Dr. Simmons said the money expended as proposed would all come back to the taxpayers, and if the $100,000 should be voted it would result in a great stimulus to business and population. If the city were properly improved people would come to winter, and spend hundreds of thousands of dollars among us, as in the cities of the southern counties. At present they will not stay here because they cannot

Secretary Baker moved that a committee of fifteen be appointed to take charge of the election matter, they to appoint sub-com-mittees, if necessary, to call upon business men and others and urge the success of the novement. The motion was carried, and the President was authorized to appoint the committee later on.

Success-Incidents. OBERAMMERGAU, May 19th .- The principal rehearsal of the Passion play began at o'clock this morning, and, with an interval of an hour and a half, continued till 6 o'clock this evening. At 5:30 o'clock this morning a cannon was fired and a band At 6 o'clock there were services at the church. The beginning of the play was announced by the discharge of a cannon. Between all acts a chorus of guardian angels, derived from the Greek chorus, comes on the platform before the stage and a tableaux from the Old Testament comes on, illustrative of the following scene in the Passion. After a prologue by the chorus came Christ's entry into Jerusalem. The en-tire enormous stage was crowded with gorgeous costumes. At length Christ appeared, riding on an ass. The interest be-came intense and never flagged the long day. The center of interest was Josef Maier's rendition of Christ. In the first act, when Christ expels the money chang-with colored mantles over white robes.

The chorus retires through side colonnades

ers from the temple, doves flew from the In the second act the high council developed uniformly admirable acting, especially that of Caiphas. The Old Testament tab-leaux, after the Dore Bible, were wonderfully arranged by Drawing Master Lang. In the third act, the departure from Bethany the Virgin Mary appears, played well by Rosa Lang, daughter of the burgo-master, 18 years old. The new player of Judas was seen to advantage in the be-traval scene. His words were uncertain, but his acting was very natural. He shows at his best when he hangs himself.

The acting of Pilate was perfect. In the scene when Jesus is brought before him by the people there were 700 on the stage. After this came the massing of dramatic effects-the scourging, the procession to Calvary and the climax of the crucifixion, Mier's superb figure hanging to the cross twenty-five minutes, supported by an invisible iron plate at his back and feet. He pronounces the seven words on the cross with indiscribable intensity and the great-

In an interview he declares that Kennan is sensational that Russia has been misrepresented. Dunston has been for forty years a resident of St. Petersburg, at the head of the concern which prints all Russia's paper money. He asserts that Kennan is a vicious sensationalist, who willfully misrepresents. Russian prisons, he says, are no worse than those of all European counries, and the exile system no worse than England's exportation scheme. The food, accommodations and treatment are equal to the average. Dunston asserts that the Russian peas-ant is in every sense equal to the English peasant, and that Kennan's charge that drunkenness is a national disease is unfounded. Russiaus are not quarrelsome when in drink. Saloons are rigidly regulated. An excellent school system, con-stantly being improved, is in force. The recent "riots" in the college at St. Petersburg he characterizes as simply a protest against the extra compensation demanded by the officers of the school, and in no ense a reflection on the Government. The strongest part of Mr. Dunston's talk is his enthusiastic claim that the Nihilists are few in number and composed of jealous women and unreasonable men who have a grievance, and that the vast bulk of the Russians of all classes respect and love

"POSTAL INCOMPETENCY."

On the 12th of April the RECORD-UNION contained an editorial article under the title above quoted, in which it charged that letters mailed in San Francisco for the early evening trains for this city were frequently held in the San Francisco office mail service between this city and San for a later train, much to the inconvenience Francisco. Washington. Documents now in our possession, through the courtesy and official duty of Postmaster Stephens of this city enable us to continue the history of the affair, which is of special importance to this community, because of the hope that the agitation will serve to bring about the long-needed reform, and without which important business interests are hindered, and possibly life itself imperiled. It will be noted that the inefficiency originally charged is emphasized by the correspondence we quote, as it is disclosed that by a species of red-tape ingenuity the protest against poor service was made to encounter the risk of being side-tracked.

SACRAMENTO, May 19, 1890.

R. D. Stephens, P. M.: In re. request to furnish evidence of de ay in mail matter from San Francisco, the editorial in the RECORD-UNION of April 12, which is attached to correspondence, stated the facts, without exaggeration. I will state the particular case which caused the publication, but it is only one of twenty similar instances I could have reported. On the 9th of April, about noon, I received thistelegram from San Francisco: "Get letter by mail to-night, on 3:30 Overland." On the arrival of that train and the distribution of its mail, I was at the postoffice. The letter looked for did not come, though I received other letters mailed in San Francisco at 3 r. M. I then waited for the mail arriving here at 9:10 r. M., and was again disappointed, though again getting letters from San Francisco. When the II-30 mail arrived at the Postoffice at midnight I was again on hand, accompanied by Mr. J. A. Woodson. The first letter I got from that mail was postmarked in the San Francisco office at 6 r. M., and about 1 a. M. I got the letter I had been waiting for all night, and which it was of the utmost importance I should have early. I at once, and before leaving the office, called the attention of the distributing clerk to the postmarks, showing that one of the letters (the one I had been advised of) was postmarked in the General Office in San Francisco at 3 r. M., and the other in the same office at 6 r. M., and both were stamped on the back as received at Sacramento at 12 midnight. J am positive that they both came in on that mail, for both Mr. Woodson and myself saw the young man take them from the pouch. You will remember that on the day following I took both of the envelopes to you and showed you the postmarks. You stated that there was no question but that the letter had been delayed in the San Francisco Office. I kept the envelopes for some time to show to my San Francisco correspondent, as evidence that I had not received his letter

THE IMPROVEMENT ELECTION.

The election that is to determin whether this city will vigorously and sensibly proceed to improve its highways will soon be held. We much mistake the tone of public sentiment if the vote is not overwhelmingly in favor of authorizing the issue of the necessary certificates of indebt-

It is not, and never has been, proposed hat the entire issue shall be made at once. It will not be necessary to do so this year, and we may hope that it never will be necessary to issue the full amount of bonds to be authorized. In all probability $25,-000 will be ample for the present. The sum realized on such a sale will enable the eople to do all the work that time will permit before the next rainy season sets in.

It is not, therefore, so momentous a natter, so far as money is concerned, as the very few who oppose the issue of the onds assume. Up to a very recent period Sacramento had a street intersection fund, and street improvement was aided by the city at large paying the cost of intersection | in my opinion, the general fruit industry work. All that the present proposition amounts to is a return to that system, which can be done only in the manner proposed, because of the general street law

The money to be realized upon the onds is all to be expended at home, and under the new and economic system of treet-paving will produce greater results, lollar for dollar than any previous expenditure. It is as just to ask that the city at large shall bear a fair proportion of general street improvement, as to call upon to do so. Having that course in view, I, t to light, sprinkle, sweep and repair the Company, do not think it advisable or treets at general cost. Because some of streets at general cost. Because some of proper to remain a member of the Directory of an institution through which I did vened and destroyed our intersection fund, have been compelled to pay for intersection work on the basis of front-foot assess mens, is not a good reason for continuing the error. tion-Reasons Given for the Withdrawals.

For some time it has been currently reported that important changes might be looked for in the management of the Fruit Union, and that a number of the heaviest shippers might be expected to leave its ranks at any moment.

HEAVY SHIPPERS WITHDRAW FROM THE CALIPORNIA FRUIT UNION.

On Saturday a special meeting of the union was called in San Francisco, at which President P. E. Platt tendered his resignation as President and Director, and Eugene J. Gregory also resigned as one of the Executive Committee of three and as a

This action on the part of these gentlemen means that neither the firm of the W. R. Strong Company or Gregory Bros. Co., fruit shippers, will hereafter ship any of their fruit through the California Fruit Union. As these two houses have in the past been the heaviest shippers and supporters that the union had, their action has attracted considerable attention. A RECORD-UNION reporter called on both gentlemen yesterday in regard to the mat-

MR. PLATT'S REASONS. Mr. Platt, upon being seen, said: "Yes, I have resigned from the Fruit Union both as President and Director, and our house will hereafter ship independently of that concern. For nearly three years we have worked with the union, and of course have our reasons now for withdrawing. The original intention and expectation of the Fruit Fnion was that it would control, centralize and protect from unjust and unnecessary competition, and consequent slaughtering of prices, the fruit crop of California. This much desired result has by no means been attained, and I am satisfied that it will never be possible, even if it were desirable, that the product should be cornered by any concern, no matter how powerful it might become.

"California fruit has become a staple article in the East, and is being sought for by responsible dealers all over the country. What we want is that Eastern dealers should handle California fruit more largely than ever. We want to encourage them to take hold of it, and so far as possible to spread the fruit over the country and introduce it into as many different channels as possible. We cannot get this general result if dealers are obliged to pay tribute to some particular concern such as the Fruit Union or any other combination that might seek to control and regulate the dis-

The machinery of the union costs a great deal of money to run. There are a good many conflicting interests, and it becomes unwieldy, and could not be regulated so as to meet the requirements of our rapidly increasing trade. We have no personal grievance against Mr. Buck, the manager of the union, and do not wish the union any harm. We simply think the field is wide enough, and there is fruit enough to supply both the union and outside shippers. "We, of course, expect to get the advantage of the low freight rates which have been made largely at our personal solicitation, and in making up trains we shall co- pay a fine of $150-$100 for bearing his operate with any and all shippers who wife, and $50 for the assault upon Lambmay wish to get the advantage of the spe- with the alternative of spending one day cial train system, and to ship fruit East in in the County Jail for each dollar of the a practical manner. We propose to work on a very broad platform, and one which Silva's friend—the other Silva—paid the It is to be regretted that business men

MR. GREGORY TALKS. Mr. Gregory readily consented to talk about the matter. "The truth of the matter is," said he, "I decided several months ter is," said he, "I decided several months Monday, May 19th. ago to take this step, as I have long since found that the machinery of the Union was not a practical method for the handling and disposition of California fruits In the first place the system involves a considerable outlay in the way of salaries and other expenditures, while the number of those who ship through the Union has always been limited—confined, in fact, to a very few growers and shippers. This of course makes the share of expenses quite large to those who use the Union. "The prime object for which the Union was originally created was to secure low rates of transportation by means of special train service, and to bring about centralization in the disposition of the fruit. Speaking for Gregory Bros. Company, it is safe to state that we have undoubtedly shipped as much fruit through the Union as anyone connected with that organization, and not withstanding the fact that the Union has been in existence for four years the major ity of fruit shipped through it has been by out a very few firms and individuals-the major portion of the fruit growing community preferring to use other methods for he disposition of their product. As a result the desired centralization has been at this instead of the other end, and the measure of the proportionate expenses have DIVIDED AMONG A VERY FEW, Instead of between the great mass of fruitgrowers of the State, the latter presumably preferring to use other methods than the Inion for the disposition of their products. In other words, I resigned as a member of the Executive Committee and as a Director of the Union because business principles prompted me to do so. I have no personal feelings against the personnel of the management. In fact, I can say nothing de rogatory to Mr. Buck, the manager of the organization, who is certainly conscientious in his desire to carry out the regulations and laws of the California Fruit Union. My dissatisfaction is with the management as a whole and not with any individual connected therewith. In other words, the method and principles of the organization is unsuited for our requirements, as the expensive machinery of the concern places a heavy tax on those who desire to use it. "I did not leave the Union with the in-tention of joining into or forming any other similar organization wherein salaries or fees are to be considered in connection with the manipulation of such fruit ship ments as we may hereafter make. requires is quick transportation at favorable rates-such as now offered by the recent change, whereby seven cars shall constitute a special train, and at a reduction from last year's rate—and the facilities necessary for the selecting, packing, shipment and disposition of choice merchantable stock.

As I stated before, our house does not propose to enter into any fruit-shipping association, but to manipulate our business in our own way and according to the dictates of our own judgment, knowing that there can be no mistake in pursuing that course. Our object in withdrawing from the Union is not for the purpose of creating any an-tagonism against the organization, but because it is infinitely more to our interest

Why She Bought a Vapor Stove.

PROMINENT LADY OF THIS city called at our store last June and complained of a constant headache, and especially so while cooking over a hot stove; and she stated she had paid over $200 to doctors at different times in order to get relief, but found it of no avail. She asked us for a coal-oil stove, or something that would do her cooking without much heat, as she felt sure her whole trouble came from that cause. We prevailed upon her to try a JEWEL VAPOR STOVE, which she did. She to state that since she has made the change she has been troubled no more than one or two days in the whole time with headache of any kind. Ladies of Sacramento, how many of you are troubled in this way? How many medicine bills and doctor bills have you paid, and are now paying, when, for a trifling sum, you could get one of our absolutely NON-EXPLOSIVE JEWEL VAPOR STOVES, save all this, and make life happy. Call and see these treasures, as we consider it no trouble to show them.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board of City Trustees, at which all the members were present, the Chief Engineer of the Water Works reported that during the week 26,247,000 gallons of water had been pumped, the Holly engine being in operation 109 hours, and the Stevens 70 hours.

Graf, the contractor, whose bid for laying a sewerpipe on S street, from Seventeenth to Sixth, was the lowest. Mr. Hinkson said that he had put in his bid believing that the cost of pipe was twenty-five cents less per foot than it really was, he not having seen the pipe companies' new schedule of prices until after he had handed in his bid.

THE Y STREET GRADING. James Touhey asked the Board to postpone the proposed improving of Y-street for a couple of months. He said that at the present time dirt and sand was hard to get, and the delaying of the grading of the levee for a short time would not inconvenience anybody.

Trustee McLaughlin said he had no ob-

THE LATEST ELECTRIC SCHEME. W. N. Young, an attorney for the Sacramento Electrical Construction Company, whose place of business is in San Francisco, appeared before the Board and asked them to postpone the matter of hearing the company's agent on the intentions of the corporation. He said they proposed laying underground wires, but that the electrician of the company, who was unavoidedly absent, could explain matters better, and if the Board would postpone the matter until next Monday he would be present and state to them the intentions of the new cor-It was so ordered.

THAT COAL CONTRACT ONCE MORE. Mr. Cowen, agent of the Oregon Coal Company, wanted the Board to accept his bid for furnishing coal to the water works for the following year. He claimed that the supposed letting of the contract was all irregular, and that if the Board had come right down to facts and figures it would have found that his bid was really the lowest. He thought the better plan to get out of the muddle would be to re-advertise for new bids, to be handed in next Mon-day. He was prepared now to furnish coal for $8 23 per million gallons of water pumped, which was 25 cents lower than any other bid.

Mayor Comstock said he believed the better way would be to wait for a couple of weeks, until the bill of the Ione Coal Company for the first month would be handed There would then be a sort of tilt, he thought, and the discussion might termi-only way to straighten out matters would be to re-advertise and let the contract again. Mayor Comstock moved to lay the matter Trustee McLaughlin moved to amend by readvertising for new bids, to be handed in

Trustee Wolf thought the latter's motion to amend was out of order. It was not an amendment, but a reconsideration of the action of the Board, as the contract was al-Mayor Comstock declared Mr. McLaugh-

An invitation was received by the Trustees from the Grand Army of the Republic to participate in the observance of Memorial Day and accepted.

PUBLIC SQUARES FOR PLAY-GROUNDS. A communication was received from the Improvement Association asking the Board to fit up as many of the public squares in the city as possible, so that the boys of the city might have play-grounds.

Douglass Lindley spoke on the subject, stating that it ought to be done, and if it was not the boys would surely play in the streets, which was in violation of the law. It was resolved that the squares be not rented for pasturage any more, and that they be fixed up as play-grounds.

THE N-STREET GRADE. A petition was received from propertyowners on N street, from Front to Second, asking that the street be not sloped to wards the alley, but towards Second street. as it would be better for all parties concerned. The matter was left in the discretion of the Street Commissioner. DANGEROUS SIDEWALKS.

Henry Fuchs sent a communication to the Board stating that while passing along the sidewalk his boy stepped in a hole in front of 703 J street, and he wanted the the proposed exhibit at the World's Fair. Sidewalk Inspector's attention called to the matter. He believed there was no use in trying to issue bonds to improve the streets on the outskirts of the city when all A Booze-Laden Tough Runs Amuck and along the north side of J street a person was not safe from falling. A proposed ordinance was read by the Mayor making it a misdemeanor for any were out canvassing yesterday and they reperson to have in his possession (unless it is shown that such possession is innocent) any faro-box, faro-table, faro-layout, farocases, faro-checks, or other instruments for playing any banking game. HOWARD ASSOCIATION'S TAXES. J. C. Medley asked the Board to cancel the taxes on the property of the Howard Benevolent Association. It was not a money-making association, but was founded for the purpose of helping the needy. Mr. Medley's request was reterred to the City Assessor.

GROSS OR NET RECEIPTS. A letter was received from Grove L. Johnson, in response to an inquiry made of him by the Board in reference to the matter of the Trustees paving only 55 per cent. of the net proceeds of the Water Works fund into the interest and sinking fund. He said he had not investigated the question as thoroughly as its importance warranted, but from the attention he had refusing to settle a bill with a landlord and given the matter he was prepared to advise | Judge Buckley will sentence him to day. the Board that no liability would attach to the City Auditor or his bondsmen by a till in the Empire Saloon, and he, too, reason of the Board's refusal to set apart | will be given judgment to-day. more than 55 per cent. of the net proceeds of the water rates, etc., for the benefit of the interest and sinking fund. The contract for grading and improving L street, from Fifteenth to Twenty-eighth, was awarded to the Sacramento Street Grading Company.

OBSTRUCTED SIDEWALKS. A proposed ordinance was read regulating the manner of using sidewalks for storing and handling goods, and imposing certain restrictions thereon.

Mayor Comstock said he thought the ordinance would be a little difficult to enforce. In fact, it hit him pretty hard, but he thought he could manage to dispose of his boxes in his cellar. Still, the enforce-

A SNIFF OF FIRECRACKERS. The Mayor brought up the subject of a Fourth of July celebration. He said that citizens were already agitating the matter, and thought perhaps the Board might want to consider it.

Trustees McLaughlin and Wolf said the Board had not heretofore taken official action, except to decline to appropriate the money asked for a celebration. If they had paid it last year, the city funds would e now just that much further behind. Nothing was done about it.

EIGHT HOURS-ACTION THREATENED. Mr. Frye, the representative of the Council of Federated Trades, again wanted to know what the Board was going to do about the request to have city employes paid full wages for eight hours' work a day He did not wish to commence any action have the law enforced, but intimated that it would be done if the Board did not do something in the matter within another week.

Mr. McLaughlin said he didn't like threats of that kind, and if the gentleman was getting impatient about it he had better not delay, but commence his proposed action at once.

Mayor Comstock said he would like a week in which to consult the District Attorney and Supervisors in regard to the matter, and the Board continued it until the next meeting. OVERTAXED BOILERS.

A report was received from Mann & Wilson, who had inspected the Water Works boilers for the last quarter. They state that the tubular boiler had done more than the service usually required of such boilers. They had run fifteen years, or five years over the average time, and would soon need repairs.

Mr. Wolf said the tubes could probably be used until next winter, when repairs should be made.

At Mr. Wolf's request the contract was Mr. Wolf remarked that the present delay was costing the city $900 a month to light 45 electric lights 17 nights each month, whereas under the new contract the same 45 lights would cost the city but $500 a month, and would be lighted 27 nights in that time. Finally Mr. McLaughlin's motion to stop the work was carried by the votes of him-self and Mr. Wolf, the Mayor voting no.

THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY REVISES LIVE STOCK PREMIUMS.

Entries. The Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society met yesterday for the purpose of arranging the programme for the State Fair of 1890. Directors Hancock,

Cox, Boggs, Chase, LaRue, Carr and Green were present. The Board decided to offer for 1891 fat stock premiums as follows: Thoroughbred steer or spayed heifer, three years old and over, $40; second best, ditto, $20; best graded steer and heifer, three years old and over, $40; best two-year-old, $20. Action is taken at this time in order to

Smith, of Santa Ana, was devoted to the Preparatory Depar and the programme was as follows tment selected to judge the Holstein cattle. Mr. Smith is an Inspector of the National Assochoir; examination in catechism; recita-tions, Egbert F. Scully, James F. White ciation of Holstein Breeders, which insures proper judging in this class. and Francis A. Broderick; vocal solo, "Be Sure You're Right, Then Go Ahead," Her-bert J. Bronner; examination in spelling;

The Board then proceeded to discuss the premium list, and the following are the principal changes made: It was ordered that all stock, save and except that owned in the States of Oregon, Nevada and Washington, must be in the State prior to June 1st of each year to entitle them to exhibit. In the standard trotter class the rule will be strictly enforced (notice of which was given last year), that all animals competing n that class shall be duly registered in the Trotting Register. An additional premium was ordered in this class for mares four years old and over, with suckling colt, $40: second best, $20. The same additional premiums were made in the roadster class. The young herd premium in the Jersey lass was stricken out. In herd sweepstakes for beef and milk breeds it was ordered that the premium be given for the best herd, which shall consist of one bull and four cows, at the following ages: One four years old and over, one three years old, one two years old, and one one year old. The special premiams offered by the Short-Horn and Holstein-Friesian Association, for cattle in those classes that shall obtain the award in the sweepstakes, were accepted, and ordered printed in the regular premium list.

In the class for sheep, it was ordered that sheep shall not be recognized as eligible to entry, unless they trace to animals re-corded, or the exhibiter furnish in writing at the time of entry equally satisfactory evidence as to purity of breeding. The usual cattle premiums were offered for Red Polled Angus. The sum of $2,500 gave judgment for the defendant was appropriated for county exhibits.

After a few additional and minor changes the list of last year was adopted.

The Board resolved to charge for the use of stabling at the park, and fixed the following rates per stall: In the new cottage State yesterday: stable, $5 per month; in the old cottage stable, $3 per month, and for all others $2 per month

The Board found it necessary to derive some revenue for the use of the stalls, to pay for repairs and other expenses incidental to the keeping up of the grounds, as there are no other resources available for this. The money appropriated by the State cannot be used for anything but pre-No charge for horses entered in races

WHY NOT THE BEST?

It doesn't take much to be a fourth or fifth-rate anything. It does take something to be at the top. There can be but one "first." That place in any pursuit or any line of business costs almost infinite labor, skill and experience, in addition to natural abilities. In the hat trade the Dunlaps have simply paid that price and hold first positions.

Hatters everywhere know their place.

When one knows what the best is, why not get the best? It doesn't cost more than to get less desirable makes, and it's a satisfaction to know that one has just the "proper" shape upon his head.

The Dunlap Hats cover more of the wealth, fashion and brains of the country than those of any other make.

The Idanha Mineral Water is from the famous Soda Springs in Idaho. It has no peer as a table water, and has come into public favor wherever introduced. ARNOLD TESTIFIES. He Tells Why He 'fook the Life of Garn ess.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19th.—The trial of D. H. Arnold for killing Samuel W. Garness, by shooting him in the Peerless Saloon, on the afternoon of the 30th of last January, was resuraed this morning before Judge Murpky and a jury. The Court-room was again crowded with spectators, including a large number of prominent residents of Colusa. Defendant Araold was again called to the witness stand to give further testimony in his own behalf. Witness identified a copy of the Moening Post of November 15, 1889, containing an article which Carness took to that office. The witness stated that he received a copy of that paper with blue pencil marks around the articles, which Garness afterward said he sent to him to show him what was going on. Before these circulars were distributed his weight was from 165 to 174 pounds. After his arrest and when in the city prison Clerk. Arnold's reputation in that place he weighed 147 pounds. THE KILLING OF GARNESS. Continuing, witness said: On the morning of January 20th I went across the bay to Mills Seminary. Saw my daughter Geneva there. She was looking pale and thin. Returned to this city about 4 o'clock. Went to the office of attorney Goad, with whom I had frequently talked about the circulars. Then went to the office of detective Curtin and talked with him about circulars. Then started for the Nevada Stables, on Market street, to see William Mellon. When upposite the Peerless sahailed him, saying, "Hello, Garness," and stepped up to him. He turned, and I said, "I want to talk with you." He turned and I said, and actions. He became about the same "All right; let us go in here and take a drink." He led the way into the saloon, holding the door open for me. He led the way through the saloon into the back room When we sat down Garness put his thum on a button. He asked me when I was going home. I replied to-morrow or next day. The waiter then came in. Garness ordered cocktail and I plain whisky. He said: "Do you think Brooks had anything to do with this?"

plied: "I do not."
said: "He talks way up." replied: "You wrote the circular."
He replied: "What if I did, —

He then jumped up and put his hand behind him. I then drew a pistol and fired. Repeated the firing. I was holding the pistol pointed at him when it was struck up by Chenowith. He shoved me out of the room and I gave up my pistol to him. I was then taken into an office spoken of. He claimed to be a friend of

Can't tell where the first three shots struck. The fourth shot struck him in the shoulder. I think the first and second shots struck him in the breast. "That is all," remarked District Attorney Hosmer.

"That is all," responded Mr. Delmas. CAPTAIN LEES TESTIFIES.

lice Court? Witness-The writing does not contain all that Garness said. The dying statement was then read by Mr. Delmas.

Witness-The abrupt ending of the paper is due to the fact that his mind began to wander and he could not articulate. This statement was made between 8 and 9 o'clock on the evening of January 30th. Cross examined—That is not all Garness said, but it is substantially what he said in regard to the shooting. I afterward said the statement was not as fully taken down in long-hand as it would have been by a stenographer. He would talk very rapidly, and cease talking for a minute or so. He would wander off on subjects connected with this matter. I notice only one mis take in the statement as taken down.

A REPORTER'S EVIDENCE. C. M. Coe testified, "Was three years connected with the Examiner and am now with the Chronicle. In the fall of 1889. I was employed on the Examiner. MRS. COOPER.

She Does Up a Lot of San Joaquin County Farmers. STOCKTON, May 19th .- For the past few days this city has been overrun with a delegation of grangers, and the object of their presence in the city became known to day. Several months ago a sharp-witted woman named E. N. Cooper, who claims to have been for several years in Government offices in Washington, inaugurated a little scheme whereby she has placed several shekels in her pocket, but has also placed herself in a very dangerous position. She claimed that a large amount of land held by Jacob Brack of Brrck's Landing, located in the northwestern portion of this county as swamp and overflowed land, was illegally in his possession, as some was not swamp and overflowed land. She induced thirty-six farmers to pay her $31 each, under a claim that she had influence at Washington and could get the Land Commission to declare the land open to settlers, and the farmers could then file on the land. STAGE GOSSIP. Gilbert and Sullivan Agreed to Disagree on a Small Matter. London, May 19th .- The row that finally ruptured the firm of Gilbert & Sullivan is said to have all been on account of a carpet. Their business was always done on a sharing system, expenses of all kinds being charged against the receipts, and the profits divided between Gilbert, Sullivan and D'Oyley Carte. While Gilbert was in India, just after the production of "The Gondoliers," Carte purchased new carpets for the theater. When Gilbert returned he objected to the expense. Carte maintained that the purchase was justified and the two appealed to Sullivan, who sided with Carte. As a great many people have occasion to know, Gilbert is endowed with a temper not mild, and when he gets into row he generally sees it through. He did so in this case, the result being a dissoution of copartnership.

Gilbert is now looking for a composer collaborate with. It is said that Alfred C Ellier will be the new partner, or, at least, will collaborate in a new opera with which Horace Sedger will commence his occupancy of the Lyric Theater. Sullivan does not want a new partner, and declares that he will confine himself hereafter to grand opera. This combination of circumstances will necessitate a change in the policy of the Savoy Theater after the run of the "Gondoliers" is over.

To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the sense or returning health and strength produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digesion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietude is vouchsafed to the human sysem. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease follow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Marasmus, consumption and other wasting maladies are prompt to fasten upon the enfeebled. Avert disease, therefore, with this grand enabling tonic, which not only renews failing strength. but mitigates and counteracts the infirmities of age and those of the gentler sex. Rheumatism, malaria, liver and kidney troubles yield to it.
